INFORMATION FOR PARTICIPANTS

The International Congress will be held in a hybrid format, allowing participants to attend either in person or online. One week prior to the Congress, all participants who have registered for an online presentation will receive an email containing the Congress programme and the link to join the event.

The Book of Abstracts will be published before the opening of the Congress and will be made available on the official Congress website. In addition, an edited collective monograph with assigned ISBN and DOI is planned. It will include papers submitted by participants that have successfully passed the peer-review process.

Together with the abstracts and the chapters submitted for the collective monograph, authors are required to provide a similarity (plagiarism) check report generated using specialized plagiarism detection software. Only submissions with a text similarity index not exceeding 20% will be considered for publication. Authors are solely responsible for the accuracy and authenticity of the submitted similarity reports.

Following the Congress, participants will have the opportunity, subject to successful peer review, to publish their research in the following journals:

- Environmental Problems (SCOPUS)
- Key Engineering Materials (SCOPUS)

Manuscripts will undergo a preliminary editorial assessment, after which authors may receive recommendations for revisions to ensure compliance with the editorial policies and publication requirements of the respective journals.

For participants attending the Congress in person, registration will take place in the lobby of the Assembly Hall of the Main Building of Lviv Polytechnic National University (12 Stepan Bandera Street, Lviv, Ukraine).
